Jamestown Commissioners.

A special despatch to the St. Albans Messenger tells of the doings of the Vermont commission to the Jamestown Tercentennial Exposition, consisting of Lieut.-Gov. George H. Prouty, acting chairman, Col. Charles S. Forbes, secretary, the Hon. J. F. Manning, Edgar O. Silver, Fred L. Davis, Edward M. Goddard, and James E. Pollard, who have returned to Vermont after a visit to the exposition grounds near Norfolk, Va. The commissioners met at the Vermont delegation in Congress in Senator Redfield Proctor's committee room at the capitol Tuesday afternoon and Senator Proctor accompanied them down the river to Norfolk. A thorough inspection of the grounds was made and a site for the proposed Vermont building practically decided upon. The site will be about 100 by 170 feet and will contain ample space for the building. The matter of securing space for Vermont exhibits was considered and a liberal amount of room was secured by the commission for historical and educational exhibits and for the display of machinery and manufactured products, agricultural products, and exhibits of granite, marble and slate. The members of the commission found the extent and character of the grounds and buildings much beyond their expectations, and believe that the exhibition will be a most attractive one.

The commissioners returned to Washington by boat and during the journey up the Potomac a business meeting was held to discuss the work of providing a suitable building and securing exhibits. Lieutenant-Governor Prouty presided, Colonel Forbes was chosen as secretary, and the following committees were elected: On site building, Lieutenant-Governor Prouty and Senator Manning; on historical and educational exhibits, Messrs. Goddard and Silver; on general exhibits, Lieutenant-Governor Prouty, Mr. Pollard, and Senator Manning; on publications, advertising Vermont as a summer resort, resources of the state, and printing, Messrs. Forbes, Goddard, and Silver.

Vermont Association of Boston Meets.
The Vermont Association of Boston held its twenty-first annual banquet at the Vendome, Boston, Jan. 18, nearly 300 sons and daughters of the Green Mountain state being present and listening to an interesting address by Gov. Fletcher D. Proctor, of Proctor. The dinner was preceded by a reception, those in the receiving line being President and Mrs. Nelson L. Sheldon, Governor and Mrs. Proctor, Adj.-Gen. James A. Frye representing Gov. Curtis S. Goddard of Massachusetts, Adj.-Gen. W. H. Gilmore of the staff of the governor of Vermont, Mrs. G. H. Prouty, of Newport, wife of the lieutenant-governor of Vermont, Col. Albert Clarke, Miss Proctor, Judge and Mrs. Edgar D. Sherman, Judge William E. Fuller, and Miss Fuller. After marching into the banquet hall the company stood while the blessing was invoked by the Rev. J. H. Holden, of Roxbury, Mass. During the progress of the dinner there was music by an orchestra and while the latter courses were being served and between speeches which followed there were songs by a male quartet.

In opening the speech making President Sheldon referred to the association's having attained its majority and expressed satisfaction with its healthy and flourishing condition. He mentioned also that it was the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence at the Westminister Court House. When the president had finished his introductory remarks Col. E. C. Benton, chairman of the reception committee, called upon the whole company to sing the "Green Mountain Song," which was before them in printed form. After this, at Colonel Benton's suggestion, three cheers were given.

Governor Proctor was given a hearty greeting and his speech was listened to attentively.

Adjutant General Frye welcomed the company on behalf of Governor Guild who was unable to be present.

Judge Schofield told some anecdotes and jokes which he applied to Vermont men after which he spoke of the tendency toward federalism, especially as represented by the movement to regulate various activities of life. After more songs by the company and by a quartet there was dancing.

Work of the Y. M. C. A. in Vermont.
At the conference of employed officers of the Young Men's Christian Association of Vermont, held in Proctor, October 30-31, last, it was agreed by those present to issue a monthly news letter which would help to keep the employed men in close touch with each other. The first of these news letters, for January, has just been issued and contains much news matter of interest to association workers throughout the state and those interested in the work.

During the three and one-half months of the present state secretary's work in Vermont he has made 28 visits to the organized points, including all of the associations mentioned in the letter, except several of the Franklin county group. He made 23 visits to unorganized towns, held 63 conferences with secretaries; 49 with officers; 18 with committees, and 267 with members, pastors and contributors. He attended one convention, two conferences, and 26 other association meetings; he gave 15 addresses; traveled 4,405 miles, and did 35 days' office work. The letter contains a brief announcement of the state Y. M. C. A. convention, which will be held in Burlington, April 12-14.

A Prosperous Year.
The annual meeting of the policy holders of the National Life Insurance Co. was held at the home office in Montpelier, Jan. 16, the meeting being called to order by President J. DeBoe. The amount of stock represented and voted was $193,000. The former board of directors was selected with two exceptions. At a previous meeting Judge George M. Powers was elected but never qualified. Gov. Fletcher D. Proctor, of Proctor, was chosen to succeed him. Dr. W. Seward Webb, of Shelburne, retired as he is unable to give his personal attention to the duties of a director and George H. Olmstead of Cleveland, O., as a member of the firm of Olmstead, Bros. & Co., state agents of the National Life for Ohio and Indiana, was elected to succeed Dr. Webb.

The directors at a subsequent meeting re-elected the officers of the company, as follows: President, Joseph A. DeBoe; first vice-president, James T. Phelps; second vice-president, B. S. Estee; secretary, O. D. Clark; treasurer, Harry M. Cutler; actuary, C. E. Moulton;

Montpelier's New City Hall.
Fourteen architects applied for a chance to bid on Montpelier's new city hall and Mayor J. S. Haley placed in their hands the specifications for the new building which had been agreed on by the city hall committee. Plans must be submitted on or before February 21. The specifications call for a building with a frontage of 90 feet, an administration building of at least two stories and an auditorium in the rear to accommodate 2,000 people. The building will also contain rooms for all the city officers. The site of the building has not yet been fully determined but it is believed it will be on State street not far from the federal building. It is proposed to begin work on the foundation as soon as the frost is out of the ground.

Orleans County Fair Sept. 9-12.
The annual meeting of the members of Orleans County Fair association was held at Hotel Barton, Barton, Jan. 15. The officers elected were as follows: President, H. H. Founder of Kurn Mattin Home Dead.
News has been received of the death at Corona, Cal., of Rev. Charles A. Dickinson, formerly pastor of Berkeley Temple in Boston. He was a native of Westminster and the founder of Kurn Mattin Home for boys in his native town. He was 57 years old and when he received the call to Berkeley Temple he said that he would accept on condition that all the pews should be made absolutely free; that the church should promise to raise $15,000 a year for three years; and that he should be free to conduct the work according to his own ideas, unhampered by traditions or committees. All his conditions were met, and from 1888 to 1901 he served as pastor.

Mother Took Child from Grandmother.
Something of a sensation has been caused by the forcible carrying away from the home of his grandmother, near Brattleboro, of Norman McVeigh, aged 11 years, by the child's mother, Mrs. Thomas McVeigh. While the child was playing about the place his mother drove up in carriage, and despite the weeping protests of the boy, he was taken without coat or hat and carried to Hinsdale, N. H., where a train was taken for Boston. Since that time no trace has been found of mother and child.

Ex-Gov. Ide at Burlington.
President W. J. Van Patten of the Vermont Society of the Sons of the American Revolution of Burlington has received a telegram from ex-Governor Henry C. Ide that he will not be able to come there on February 6 to speak at the mid-winter meeting and banquet of the society. In order that he may be present and address the meeting it has been postponed until February 8, when the original programme will be carried out. Among state officials who are expected are Governor Fletcher D. Proctor, of Proctor, Lieut.-Gov. G. H. Prouty, of Newport and Judge Alfred A. Hall of St. Albans.

Sentence Suspended.
In the city court at Montpelier, Jan. 17, Judge E. M. Harvey sentenced Mrs. Robert Frasier to not less than two or more than two and one-half years at hard labor in the house of correction at Rutland for abusive treatment of her stepdaughter, Margaret Frasier, a delicate girl 15 years old. Execution of the sentence is suspended under certain conditions and the woman is placed in the custody of the probation officer. The woman must refrain from abuse of the girl, give her proper care, and permit her to have proper recreation and to associate with other children.

Bellows Falls Accepts New Charter.
A special village meeting was held in Bellows Falls, Jan. 15, to vote on the acceptance of the new village charter as it passed the recent session of the legislature. The charter was adopted and as its provisions go into effect at once the village government of the coming year will be under the new charter.

Waterbury Hotel Sold.
W. F. Davis has bought of J. C. Farrar the Waterbury Hotel, paying $17,000. Possession is to be given February 15. Mr. Davis the past 20 years has been steward at the Profile house in the White Mountains. During the winter he has been at the Vendome in Boston for seven winters and 13 winters at the St. James in Florida. Mrs. Davis has been housekeeper in some of the large hotels in Boston and New York. Mr. Davis will superintend the hotel and is improving the property.

Smart For His Age.
The two official positions in which ex-Gov. Frederick Holbrook, of Brattleboro, delights more than in any others are his offices as president of the Vermont Savings bank, Brattleboro, and chairman of the board of trustees of the Brattleboro retirement. Although nearly 94 years old, the ex-governor rides out every pleasant day, and as he presided at the annual bank meeting those present were pleased to note that he appeared even in better health than he did a year ago.

Mrs. Tobie Rosenberg died Jan. 17, at four o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. London on Bright street, Burlington, at the age of 103 years. She had been ill for the past three weeks and died of general debility. Although she had been blind for a long time, she enjoyed good health and was active about the house. She could also distinguish her friends and relatives by their voices and was a good conversationalist. She is survived by 208 descendants, including seven sons, 42 grand children, 136 great grandchildren, 19 great, great grandchildren and four great, great, great grandchildren. The business outlook in Barre is excellent and the consensus of opinion seems to be that even a better and more prosperous year than last is promised throughout the granite industry.

Infuriated by a small shaggy dog, the family pussy cat of Mrs. Fred Boyles of Johnson, turned on her mistress and scratched and bit Mrs. Boyles' face in a shocking manner. The wounds are painful but not dangerous.

With $30,000 as an annual income from the Thomas Thompson estate, the Brattleboro Memorial hospital ends itself without an adequate nurses' home and a maternity ward. The suggestion has been made that the trustees of the Austine hospital could use that fund to good advantage by adding a maternity ward to the memorial hospital. The late Col. William Austine left $50,000 for hospital purposes, but further than that he was extremely indefinite in stating how he wanted the money used.

Seven sisters, daughters of the late Mr. Mrs. Isaac Lavigne, met at the home of Mrs. Loren Friend in Montpelier, Jan. 16. The youngest is 65 years old and the eldest is 89. Six of the sisters reside in Montpelier, and the eldest, Mrs. Susan Dudley, lives in Middlebury.

building will be four stories high. The contract price is about $85,000 and the material will make about 75 carloads.

Novel Cure For Colds.
Healing Medication that is Breathed, Giving Quick Relief.

The fact that many people right in St. Johnsbury cough and hawk and snuffle for days and weeks after they have been treating a cold with the usual stomach dosing, shows how valueless are the ordinary cough and cold cures. The right way to cure a cold in the head, or a cough and irritation in the bronchial tubes, is by breathing Hymey's medicated air from the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit. Take a few breaths in this way, and immediate relief will be noted. The medication goes right to the spot where the disease germs are and renders them harmless.

W. B. Eastman gives an absolute guarantee with every Hymey outfit he sells that if it does not give satisfaction the money will be refunded. The complete Hymey outfit costs but $1.00, while extra bottles of Hymey, if needed, can be obtained for only 50c.
